

CARTWRIGHT NOR CAL

Senior Project Manager

We are looking for a qualified candidate to fill an opening for Senior Project Manager. The ideal candidate would be a self-motivated, team-player, with strong communication skills. You will utilize your experience to manage all aspects of residential, mixed-use, retail, commercial, industrial, park and recreation, utility infrastructure and roadway projects while working in an office-goal, team-oriented environment. Management opportunities available for the right candidate.

Qualifications:

- Registered Professional Engineer in the State of California is a must. License must be maintained current and in good standing.
- 10+ years of experience preparing and managing land development projects in California and overseeing design staff while maintaining schedules and budgets.
- Prior experience with managing and coordinating civil engineering design in multi-discipline, team-oriented projects
- The proven ability to generate leads and sizable client contracts to assist leadership team with maintaining billing capacity of the design team.
- Proficient with AutoCAD Civil 3D, & Microsoft Office
- Good verbal and written communication skills
- The proven ability to manage and mentor staff, direct resources, and effectively communicate all in a positive manner.

Cartwright Nor Cal is a civil engineering consulting firm specializing in professional consulting and civil engineering design services for land development projects in both the public and private sectors. Our success has resulted in long-term, repeat clients and continued growth and profitability. We provide a unique family-oriented, flexible, positive work-place culture while meeting and exceeding the demands and schedules of our clients. Compensation package includes a base salary (commensurate with experience); medical, dental and vision insurance (100% paid for employee); company matching retirement program; and generous bonus program structured around office goals.